Environment is an integral part of our ecosystem. It will be very difficult to survive without the support and help of the environment around us. We at TLSU nurture and develop the citizens of tomorrow, and creating and imbibing human values in them is of utmost importance to us. As a part of this process a walk was organized by the University in association with the Hospitality and Tourism Department on 27-09-2018. The walk served dual purpose for the students and also the locals living around the University campus. This walk marked the celebration of World Tourism Day which happens to be celebrated on the 27th of September, every year and also creating awareness of keeping the local area clean and fresh. The idea of creating cleanliness awareness was floated by the students of the University when they were planning for the celebration of World Tourism Day. As the students used to see lot of waste and garbage lying on and besides the road through which they used to come daily, they thought of doing something for the society and telling the people around to keep their area clean and not throwing the garbage on the roadsides. The entire University staff and students enthusiastically participated in the walk in the morning hours which is the peak hour where in the maximum commuting takes place on that particular road. The students and staff carried waste bags along with gloves and masks along with them and while walking to the destination collected all the garbage that was lying on the roadside. This walk created a huge impact on the locals as well the students about cleanliness and environmental awareness. The students pledged on not throwing the waste openly and promised to dispose it off only in the designated places. At the end of the walk more than 60 bags of garbage was collected and was thrown in the garbage collection vehicle of the Municipal Corporation. The walk also made the people aware about responsible domestic tourism. At the end of the walk all the participants were provided with light refreshments.
